YOUTH MEETING—Special stamps for a Whitsuntide meeting of the Austrian Youth in Vienna are being sold to businessmen in Styria and particularly in Graz. As the public is not aware of the real organizers of this meeting, it should be stressed that this event is exclusively a Communist affair. The collectors, in accordance with their directions and the general tactics of the Communist Party, avoid naming the Communists or other youth organization, the Free Austrian Youth, as the initiators of this youth meeting. SUBJECT: PLANS FOR A COMMUNIST YOUTH WHITSUNTIKE PEACE RALLY IN VIENNA

A Whitsuntide youth rally modelled after last year's demonstration in Berlin is being planned by the Austrian Communist youth organization, the Free Austrian Youth (FOeJ), which hopes to attract 50,000 participants to Vienna for the event scheduled to take place from May 12, through May 14.

Active planning for the rally began in October, 1950, when the FOeJ named a preparatory committee to arrange for the organization of the celebration. The Central Committee of the Austrian Communist Party in its sixth plenary session on October 12 and 13 threw its support behind the project and called on "all progressive and peace-loving people in Austria to support with all their strength this great youth meeting for peace." On that occasion Franz HONNER, a Communist M.P. and a member of the Party's politburo, revealed the importance attached to the rally by the Party when he told the Central Committee, "We cannot leave this task to the FOeJ alone; the entire Party will have to collaborate. Our organization must take part in the preparations for and our press in propagandizing the event. The Whitsuntide meeting of the Austrian youth will be a political event of first-class importance."

Early in November invitations were dispatched by the FOeJ to the Free German Youth and to other Communist youth organizations in various countries inviting their participation in the rally "to show our youth that they have powerful friends throughout the entire world in their fight for peace and against American imperialism." The FOeJ also drew up a pamphlet intended for dissemination among Austrian "young Communists, Socialists, trade unionists, and Catholics" (sic!) urging them to join the cause of "all young Austrians who want to see our country free of occupying powers, independent and peaceful."

A usually reliable source has informed the Legation that the tentative schedule for the three-day rally has been drawn up as follows:

Saturday, May 12
Sunday, May 13

Arrival of delegates
Preliminary eliminations for sport competitions. Demonstrations in some districts of Vienna

Monday, May 14

AM - Further sports events
PM - March along the Ring to the Rathausplatz for a mass demonstration with speeches. Final sports events at the stadium in the Prater Park.

(Another report indicates that the march along the Ring and the mass demonstration, the main events of the rally, will take place on Saturday, May 14, the first day of the celebration, rather than on the following Monday.)

During the entire rally a tent city to be known as the "Johann Keplinger Republic" will be set up in the Prater Park by the Young Guard, a Communist organization of children too young to join the POeJ. Other activities will be organized for "Kinderland", the Communist tots' organization.

As in Berlin in 1950, participants in the rally are being urged to wear uniforms for their march and demonstration. Jugend Veran, the organ of the Free Austrian Youth, has for some weeks advertised POeJ shirts at 38 schillings and girls' blue skirts at 35 schillings as available at the "House of Youth", the POeJ headquarters in the Soviet sector of Vienna.

The membership drive by the POeJ and a contest to secure new subscriptions to Jugend Veran have been launched to attract support and publicity for the Whitsuntide meeting. The drive, which lasted for about six weeks, is claimed to have netted about 1300 new members for the Communist youth organization. Considering that at the POeJ convention in May 1950 a total national membership for the organization, inclusive of the two junior groups, of 11,000 was claimed (and it is believed by American intelligence agencies that this figure represented an exaggeration of over 50%), it appears doubtful that the Communist Party or its affiliated youth groups can muster the 50,000 participants whom they would like to see parade at Whitsuntide. The very magnitude of this target, however, and the heavy stream of propaganda being played on it would indicate that this is a major Austrian Communist endeavor, to be watched with close interest and attention.
